

17.3 Publication of SDG reports

17.3.11 Publication of SDG reports - SDG 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities

Indonesia, a nation known for its immense cultural diversity and rich heritage, stands as a testament to the country's unique identity and traditions. Recognizing the significance of preserving and promoting this cultural wealth, Universitas Sriwijaya has promoted the nation's heritage among its students. By imparting knowledge about Indonesia's diverse cultures, traditions, and historical landmarks, the university aims to foster a sense of pride and understanding of the country's rich cultural tapestry. Through various initiatives and programs, students at Universitas Sriwijaya are encouraged to explore and celebrate the multifaceted aspects of their own culture and heritage.

One remarkable example of this cultural exchange and celebration at Universitas Sriwijaya is the construction of a traditional Honai house on campus by a student from Papua. This initiative not only serves as a tangible representation of the university's commitment to cultural diversity but also highlights the collaborative spirit among students from various backgrounds. The Honai house, a distinctive architectural marvel native to the Papuan culture, stands as a symbol of unity, bridging the geographical and cultural gaps among students. By showcasing such structures on campus, Universitas Sriwijaya not only preserves the nation's heritage but also encourages cross-cultural interactions, fostering an environment where students can learn from one another and embrace the richness of Indonesia's cultural heritage.

